

Matilda Stubbs

Department of Anthropology
Northwestern University
1810 Hinman Avenue
Evanston, IL 60208
matildastubbs2012@u.northwestern.edu

Areas of Specialization

Foster youth, orphans, runaways, adolescents, 'family', alternative kinship systems, 'home', locality, multi-media, and queer consciousness within the United States.

Education

Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois
Doctoral Student, Cultural Anthropology, Fall 2008-present

University of California, Santa Cruz
B.A., Anthropology, Cultural Track with Honors, 2005
Senior Thesis: Group Homes: Modern Day Prison's for Today's Foster Youth, Honors

Relevant Experience

Founders Circle Member, Smith Renaissance Society, 2008-present
University of California, Santa Cruz

Board Member, Page and Eloise Smith Scholastic Society, 2005-2008
University of California, Santa Cruz

Alameda County Member, Foster Youth Alliance, 2005-2007
Oakland, California

Mentor, Alameda County Independent Living Skills Program, 2005-present
Oakland, California

Intern, Halloran Hall, Above the Line Group Home Society, 2004-2005
Freedom, California

Co-Presiding Collegiate Fellow, Page and Eloise Smith Scholastic Society, 2003-2005
University of California, Santa Cruz

Awards and Honors

Graduate Fellowship, Northwestern University 2008-present
Appreciation Pin, Girl Scouts of the United States of America, 2007
Page and Eloise Smith Scholastic Society Jolly Good Fellow Award, 2005
Page and Eloise Smith Scholastic Society Scholarship, 2002-2005
Orphan Foundation of America Scholarship, 2001-2005
Rotary Club of Seattle Hidden Winner Scholarship 2001-2003
Rotary Club of Seattle Hidden Winner Award, 2001
Society of Women in Engineering Achievement Award 2001